President States Education Need

Keeping Education Peak Is Responsibility Students Have.

Navy Presents Plaque

Captain J. Peterson Commends College for Cooperation With V-12 Units

"When you leave this College you will go out into the world where competition against individuals, as smart or smarter than you, will be keen. You can win over these if you are willing to pay the price of studying diligently," challenged Dr. J. W. Jones, President of the College, in his initial welcoming address, September 17.

Dr. Jones emphasized the need of each student to strive for the maintenance as well as the betterment of this institution.

"A state system of higher education grows out of the faith of the people in higher education. It is manifested in the appropriation of funds by the General Assembly to support the college. The local college receives approximately eighty-five per cent of the funds necessary to operate the college from taxation money—state and federal. The additional fifteen per cent of the funds comes from student fees and miscellaneous sources. The investment of the state in higher education places a responsibility upon those who attend the college to return to the state better citizens," said Dr. Jones.

Education Is An Investment

"Both the state and the student body are investing in higher education. Each has a right to expect returns on the investment. I welcome you to this opportunity to earn a college education and then to serve those who have made this education possible.

"We're not giving away higher education! We offer to you the opportunity; the rest is wholly up to you," the President insisted.

Proud of Faculty, Students

He continued that Maryville should be and is proud of the high standard and quality of its faculty and the wholesome attitude entertained by the student body. That confidence is the by-product of American civilization, and that, therefore, the future of the state and each citizen depends upon higher education was explained by the speaker.

The need for well-trained, disciplined minds and higher ethics as compensation for the State's faith in advanced study was stressed by Dr. Jones.

Preceding the President's address, Captain John V. Peterson, USN, Professor of Naval Science, NROTC, University of Kansas, presented tokens of appreciation—Bronze Plaque, signed by the Secretary of Navy James Forrestal, and the Navy E Banner—extended through the courtesy of the Navy V-12 Program.

Navy Comments Sacrifice

"Your job was well done during these war times. Now, please devote your classes to the keeping of the peace—not defending it," the alternate for Rear Admiral J. Cary Jones, USN Commandant, Ninth Naval District, commented.

Uel W. Lamkin, President Emeritus, Accepted the Awards.

Dean M. C. Cunningham presided at the convocation. The Rev. L. B. Holliday led the prayer of invocation; after which, he introduced the Rev. Franklin Kohl, the Rev. Earl Vansickle, and the Rev. R. C. Yates, representatives of local churches, to the student body. These church officials, members of the Ministerial Alliance, urged all students to attend religious services both for personal benefits and for the increase of church activities.

Horace Mann Instructor Receives Master's Degree

Miss Hannah Lou Bennett, supervising nursery school teacher at Horace Mann, received the degree of Master of Arts this summer from Ohio State University, where she specialized in elementary education. She has attended the university for the past four summers in preparation for this degree.

This summer Miss Bennett acted as assistant head resident of her dormitory, Canfield Hall. She also assisted with classes in pre-school education in children's literature and with the Work Shop of the National Department of Elementary School Principals, held at the University this past summer.

Before her graduation she was installed into Phi Lambda Theta, a national honorary educational fraternity for the women of the university.

THE OLD AND THE NEW—E. A. "Lefty" Davis, who is head of the Physical Education Department, began his twentieth year of service with the College on September 9. He is shown as he appeared on registration day with a group of P. E. majors, mostly freshmen, including Clyde Sweat, Phil Carter, Don Merrigan, Kyle Hayworth, Floyd Klang and Marvin Carmichael. Backs of heads belong to, left to right, Art Felt, Don Hoffman, and Joe Merrick.

"Learn The Library" Will Be New Slogan

New Lounge For Reading Adds Interest During Longer Hours.

Are you afraid your date's eyes are roving while you are roving through the stacks hunting a library book? If so, it would be to your advantage to know how to locate your books without the needless effort and wasted time so many experience. Ample opportunity to learn your library shortcuts is offered this quarter with the opening of the book stacks coupled with the request that students get their own books and bring them to the charging desk.

There have been several changes in the arrangement and operation of the library for economic reasons only. The books that are used for reference have been placed in the reading room to be used at the students' necessity and convenience. One end of the reading room has been set aside as a lounge; the current magazines and newspapers have been placed there near four soft, upholstered, red chairs.

New Reading Room

Books put on reserve by faculty members for their classes have been moved to the Reserve Book Reading Room at the south end of the first floor.

Back issues of the unbound or bound magazines have been reserved for use in the Library only, enabling more students to have access to them. The cost of replacing lost issues is prohibitive.

Even the library hours have been changed. The library is now open from 8:00 a. m. until 6:00 p. m., 7:00 p. m. to 10:00 p. m. weekdays except Friday when it closes at 5:00 p. m. On Saturdays the hours are from 9:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m.

Other Services Added

Additional services will be added gradually. Particularly imminent is an innovation for the College Library that will not fail to please everyone.

Old members of the library staff who are again on duty this year are Miss Lucile Brumbaugh, Associate Librarian, Mrs. H. Garrett, Loan Librarian, and Mr. C. E. Wells, Reference Librarian. There are several new assistants which the Library would like to introduce to its public. Mrs. Belvadine Garrett will be in charge of a new room that is to be opened, and, at the same time, is in charge of all serials. Mrs. Darlyne Bowers is in charge of the Reserve Book Reading Room. Student assistants this year who are rendering admirable aid to the library service program are Janice Bentall, Jean Bush, Mrs. Eleanor Vogel, Morris Wilson, James Hinchey, Rosemary Hansford, and Thomas Walker.

Mr. Price, Librarian, says: "Our ultimate aim is to offer at all times the best library service possible to both students and faculty. This aim cannot be achieved without cooperation and understanding from our library users. It is this aim that prompts us to make changes in our past practices and we are counting on the forbearance of our patrons."

Kidder Teacher Visits College
Maude S. McClellan, a graduate of the College, was a campus visitor one day during the summer. She is a member of the Kidder High School faculty.

Dr. Lane Goes to New Position
Dr. Ruth Lane, former member of faculty at the College left this month for Huntsville, Texas, where she has accepted a position to teach in the Sam Houston Teachers College.

It's Men Two to One!

In years past the student body of the College has been predominantly feminine but the years since the beginning of the War have witnessed a constant decrease in the enrollment of women and a corresponding increase in the enrollment of men.

This year's enrollment figures, which are as yet incomplete, are 17 per cent higher than last year's, and men students outnumber women students two to one.

It seems that women no longer dominate the teaching profession.

Religious Emphasis Week Coming Soon

Full Week of Religious Activity Has Been Scheduled Here.

Once again on the campus of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College, religion is to be stressed, studied, and examined. A full week of religious activity is scheduled for October 19-23. During that week, several noted speakers and ministers will be on the campus. They will speak at assemblies and will talk with individuals, groups, and organizations.

This year the program is being sponsored by the University of Christian Missions which is centrally located in New York City. This organization has sponsored Religious Emphasis Week in numerous colleges and universities in past years and is continuing its schedule this year.

The local committee for the planned week considers that the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College is most fortunate to be included among colleges to receive the services of the University Christian Missions this year.

Noted Speakers to Be Present.

Twelve committees of seventy students and faculty members have been appointed to have charge of the various services and activities during the week. As outlined by the Christian Missions group, this week seeks to serve all people of the college community, both faculty and students.

Dr. Frank Gray Brooks, B. S., Allegheny College; A. M., University of Oklahoma; Sc. D., Johns Hopkins University; Veteran of World War I; Professor of Biology and Dean of Men, Oklahoma City University 1919-1936; Professor of Biology, Cornell College, since 1936, will be on the campus lecturing and meeting with the people during most of the week.

Another speaker will be Dr. W. Clark Ellzey, of Stephens College, Columbia. Dr. Ellzey is a graduate of Duke University. His studies include law, medicine, and psychiatry, with a major in sociology. He has lived on both coasts, the Gulf, the Great Lakes and thirteen states in the Southwest. He has had eight years of cattle ranching experience in the Texas Panhandle and has been an ordained minister of the Methodist church for fifteen years.

Dr. Ellzey has served as director of the western branch of Marriage and Family Council, at Colorado Springs; and is a member of the National Conference of Family Relations; the Chapel Hill Conference for the Conservation of Marriage and Family; and the American Social Hygiene Association. Dr. Ellzey is expected to be on the campus to meet with all committees September 28. Let all committee members hold this date open.

College Continues Improvement Program

Difficulties in Obtaining Materials Cause Slow Progress in Work.

The job of painting, repairing, and remodeling various buildings and areas on the campus, that was started in early summer, is slowly but surely showing results. According to President Jones the main factor causing the slow progress is the shortage of materials.

Painting that has been done includes the halls and several rooms of the Administration building, the exterior woodwork of the building, the rooms in the Quadrangle, and redecoration of the Home Management house. The women's gymnasium is to be replastered and painted in the near future.

The Home Economics department is in the process of remodeling. Some of the new equipment to be installed will include electric stoves to replace the small electric hot-plates that were formerly used.

English Rooms Are New

The English department has been centralized using Room 307 as the office and Rooms 303, 305, and 306 as classrooms. This change allows the sewing room of the Home Economics department to be moved to join the kitchen of that department.

Rooms in the commerce department have been completely redecorated and all of the floors have been refinished. New furniture has been ordered for the typing and accounting rooms.

Outside construction work includes a project whereby several hundred feet of concrete sidewalk are to be poured. When completed, there will be new walk from Residence Hall south past the Dean's home, from the front sidewalk to the flagpole, along the north side of the Administration building, and from the Administration building to Veterans' Village.

Parking Areas Provided

The increased number of cars being driven to school has caused a major parking problem. The College has overcome this problem by providing a large parking area along the north walk and another one on the east side of Veterans' Village. This added parking space should easily handle the traffic.

The central heating plant is also being reconditioned before the cold weather sets in. All of the hot water tubes in one of the large boilers are being replaced. With these new tubes more heat per ton of coal will be produced.

The pride of the Recreation Department is the construction of two new tennis courts. The courts, made of concrete, are located in front of the men's gymnasium. They are constructed in such a way that they can be flooded in winter for ice skating. It is the intention of the department to install lights in the near future.

Educators Will Attend Conference at Columbia

Cunningham, Dean of the Faculty, and Dr. Clifford Bishop, Chairman of the Education Department, will also attend the conference. After seeing the William Jewell-Bearcat football game in Liberty on Friday night, they will go on to Columbia to meet with the conferees.

The theme of the Conference is to be the "Problems of Morale in Secondary Schools". Dr. Cunningham will carry out this theme in his speech on Saturday morning, October 4, entitled, "Building Morale Through an Improved Teacher Training Program."

Housing accommodations will be available for all visiting teachers. A general information booth and the housing headquarters will be located on the second floor at the College, Thursday and Friday, October 9 and 10.

Tower Staff Begins This Season's Work

The 1948 Tower is now under consideration and staff members are already at work. Jack Summers, business manager, reports that several bids for printing and engraving have been received and the contract will be awarded in the near future.

Within a few days the photographer for class panel portraits will be announced and students will begin to make their appointments for Tower pictures. It is urged that all students make it a personal responsibility to have their pictures taken. Since pictures are the real center of interest in any college annual many informal shots of campus life will be needed. A campaign will be conducted during the year to collect from the students pictures which portray the activities on the campus.

The "dummy" or original plan for the Tower is being rapidly completed by the art editor, Carl Kennedy. A definite theme has not been decided upon but the "Homecoming" will hold a dominant position in the book. Suggestions for the theme will be accepted from the student body.

Prescott Likes This College
Superintendent Ray Kever of Prescott, Iowa, reports that out of the nine teachers he has in his high school, seven of them came to him from the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College of Maryville.

THE COLLEGE OATH

"We will never bring disgrace to this, our College, by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will respect and obey the College laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us.

WE SHALL REMEMBER

School opened this fall at the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College with many students reflecting deep sorrow. These students had not learned before arriving back in Maryville of the death of Mr. Leslie G. Somerville, congenial and prominent member of the College faculty.

Mr. Somerville, who became a member of the faculty in 1931, was, perhaps, best known to present students as manager of the College book store. His presence there during the past two years had given business in the store an air of smoothness and of efficient service to students and to faculty members. Along with his efficiency in conducting his business, he became the friend and helper of many students during his career.

He also served to guide and direct numerous G. I.'s in his position as counselor to the vocational G. I. program. He had served in this capacity since the return of World War II veterans to the campus.

His activities throughout life included many in which he helped to serve his fellow men, both in and out of the college. We, at the College, know that the whole community feels the distinct loss of Mr. Somerville to its ranks, but we students wish to add that his absence from our midst is one of deep concern in our hearts.

WHY AM I IN COLLEGE?

In 1941, when the effects of World War II were pounding home to people in the United States, President Levering Tyson of Muhlenberg College, Allentown, Pennsylvania, in an address to the student body of the college on the subject "Why Go to College Now?" made a statement that aptly applies to the present. What Mr. Tyson said to the students of that school may well be accepted today as an answer to those who question their residence in college. He declared that "we need a moral and spiritual crusade to bring back sanity once more, fundamental honesty in our dealings with one another, right and justice in our private and public life, humility and gentleness and gentleness in our behavior; truth and softness in our speech, clarity of eye and purpose, decency in our literature, the abandonment of brutish manners, simplicity of existence, the dignity of man made in the image of his Master. We need desperately to be afraid of that cowardice which induces a failure to recognize the real issue between just plain right and just ordinary wrong."

With constant striving toward those goals students of higher educational institutions such as this college might find the answer to better self and community living.

A GAME GUY'S PRAYER

DEAR GOD: Help me to be a sport in this little game of life. I don't ask for any place in the lineup; play me where you need me. I only ask for the stuff to give you a hundred per cent of what I've got. If all the hard drives come my way I thank You for the compliment. Help me to remember that You won't let anything come that You and I together can't handle. And help me to take the bad breaks as part of the game. Help make me thankful for them.

"And God, help me always to play on the square, no matter what the other players do. Help me to come clean. Help me to see that often the best part of the game is helping other guys. Help me to be a 'regular fellow with the other players.'"

"Finally, God, if fate seems to upbraid me with both hands and I'm laid up on the shelf in sickness or old age, help me to take that as part of the game also. Help me not to whimper or squeal that the game was a frameup or that I had a raw deal. When in the dusk I get the final bell, I ask for no lying complimentary stones. I'd only like to know that You feel I've been a good guy."—Chaplain's Digest.

Thomas, president of the Student Governing Association, calls the particular attention of all students to the seating arrangements to be observed at all football games during the current season. ## Green and White Chosen College Colors in 1906

Green and White! These are the colors that every student of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College learns to know and respect. These are the colors that fly over the heads of the athletic warriors of the college—Bears in football, basketball, or track. These are the colors, then, which predominate on the campus.

Green and white first came to the college in 1906 when a committee was chosen to select school colors. That committee endeavored to select colors for which bunting could be easily obtained for decoration purposes.

With this in mind, the committee chose green and white and did not learn until after their decision that the Maryville high school had the same colors. The committee met again to reconsider, at which time George H. Colbert, head of the Mathematics Department, suggested that despite opposition, they should continue to use green and white. This met with the approval of the committee and thus the adoption was made and still stands.

The College paper was called the "Green and White Courier." It retained this name for many years before it was changed to Northwest Missourian. In many ways, the college colors, green and white, have served, well and valiantly, the students and faculty of this institution since their adoption in 1906.

Wartime Investigators Find Clams Noiseless

LA JOLLA, Calif. (ACP)—Take the word of science for it—"silent as a clam" is a scientifically sound expression. Clams make no noise. This was revealed today as one of the incidental results of an extensive wartime investigation of natural underwater noises by the University of California Division of War Research.

In searching for the source of a peculiar crackling noise which troubled sonar operators on submarines, the scientists found that the population of this pistol shrimp were responsible, making the clatter by snapping their oversized claws. Even crabs and barnacles were found to be on the noisy side. But not clams. They are silent as—well, as other clams.

RESOLVED, That we extend our deepest sympathy to the members of the family in this time of their bereavement, reminding them that the keenness of their sorrow at his passing may somewhat be softened by a contemplation of the record of his achievements, the cleanliness of his life, and the high place he had earned in the esteem of all with whom he served.

Sociology Department Gives Course on Dating

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (ACP)—A freshman sociology course on dating started this week at Bowling Green State University. The teacher, Dr. Samuel Harman Lowrie, chairman of the sociology department, says he believes this is the first time any college has offered a credit course devoted primarily to dating.

Dr. Lowrie believes that communities should organize to encourage dating under wholesome conditions. He considers it a normal element in social development, a large factor in the personality growth of the individual. He is writing a textbook on dating problems and is thus encouraging the establishment of similar courses in other universities.

Foreign Service Examinations

The Department of State has announced a competitive written examination for appointments as Foreign Service Officer, Class 6, to be held September 22-25, 1947 inclusive, in Civil Service examination centers in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Winston-Salem, Atlanta, Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Paul, St. Louis, New Orleans, Dallas, Seattle, San Francisco, Denver, Honolulu, San Juan, P. R., and Panama. The written examination will be held in the last three cities only if the number of candidates is sufficient to warrant it. This examination is open to men and women, 21-35 years of age who are American citizens and have been such for ten years and who are not married to aliens.

Candidates who pass the written examination will be given an oral and a physical examination in the early part of 1948, after which final appointments will be made. The oral examinations will be held in Washington and possibly other cities in the United States.

The Department is eager to see that as many highly qualified potential candidates as possible are acquainted with this opportunity and to enter the Foreign Service and are urged to take advantage of it. At the present time, the career Foreign Service is being expanded at an unprecedented rate to bring it up to its authorized strength by 1948. At the same time, the responsibilities of the Foreign Service have been increased and magnified many fold.

Foreign Service officers are appointed by the President and with the advice and consent of the Senate. Under the direction of the Secretary of State, they serve abroad as diplomatic and consular officers.

Broadly speaking, the responsibilities of a Foreign Service officer are to carry out the foreign policy of the President as expressed in the directives of the Secretary of State, to keep the United States Government informed of developments abroad, to protect American citizens and interests in foreign countries, and to cultivate and maintain friendly relations with peoples of other nations.

Specifically, the duties of a Foreign Service Officer include: negotiation with foreign officials; political reporting; economic reporting in the fields of labor, finance, transportation, communication, aviation, petroleum, etc.; commercial reporting and trade promotion; agricultural reporting; issuance of visas and passports; assistance to American shipping; protection of American citizens and property; development of cultural and informational programs. In addition, there are numerous administrative duties in connection with the maintenance of offices abroad.

Appointments as Foreign Service Officer, Class 6, are made at salary levels ranging from $3,300 to $4,400 per annum according to age, experience and qualifications. While officers are abroad their salaries are supplemented by quarters allowances, and at posts where the cost of living is higher than at Washington, by cost-of-living allowances. There are seven classes of Foreign Service officers. Salaries are determined by class rather than by post and range from $3,300 to $13,500. Officers reaching the highest class are frequently appointed by the President as ambassadors and ministers, at salaries which depend upon the nature of the appointment.

Promotions are made on the basis of merit after a minimum period of service in each class. Officers who are promoted within a maximum period of service in each class are retired with proportional benefits from the retirement fund. Retirement is compulsory at the age of 60 unless an officer attains the rank of career minister. Retirement may also occur for disability or other reasons at an earlier age or after a shorter period of time with proportional benefits from the retirement fund.

The present regulations authorize 60 days of annual leave. Home leave in the United States with pay and travel expenses for an officer and his family (wife and minor children) may be ordered when he has served two years abroad.

In normal times, the United States has Foreign Service representatives in every country in the world, and consequently an officer has the opportunity to serve in many places during his career. Assignments generally range from two to five years at one post and may include service in unpleasant surroundings or amidst unhealthy living conditions.

The written examination will be scheduled as follows: On September 22, 1947, there will be tests of ability to read the English language with comprehension and with reasonable speed; of breadth and accuracy of vocabulary; and of ability to interpret statistical tables and graphs, to comprehend simple numerical relationships, and to make simple mathematical deductions. On September 23, 1947, there will be tests of range and accuracy of factual information and of ability of expression in written English. On September 24, 1947, there will be examinations in world history since 1776 and government, so constructed that a candidate may, if he wishes, select questions dealing with American history and government only and in the principles of economics. The examinations on September 25, 1947, will include modern languages consisting of a series of separate examinations testing ability to read with comprehension French, German, Portuguese, Russian, and Spanish, respectively.

The grade in the examination in modern languages is not averaged with the grades in the other examinations. Each candidate is required to take the examination in one of the languages. He may elect to take an examination in a second of the languages. If he exercises this option, he will be advantaged if he makes a creditable grade in the second examination and not disadvantaged if he fails to make a creditable grade in that examination.

A candidate must attain a weighted average grade of 70 or higher in the four general examinations, the examination in history and government, and the examination in economics, and also a grade of 70 or higher in the examination in modern languages in order to be permitted to proceed to the oral examination.

The oral examination is designed to test such qualities as appearance; manner; diction; readiness; clarity; and precision in oral expression; forcefulness; earnestness; effectiveness of personality; initiative; imagination; resourcefulness; general adaptability for the Foreign Service; loyalty to the Government of the United States and attachment to the principles of the Constitution. In determining the grade of candidates in the oral examination in the light of all available information concerning him.

Applications for designation to take the written examination may be obtained from the Board of Examiners for the Foreign Service, Department of State, Washington 25, D. C. Copies of a previous Foreign Service written examination may also be obtained upon request.

The deadline for receipt of applications is June 30, 1947. Applications received after that date will not be considered.

Library Notes

All students who desire reference information are urged to see C. E. Wells, Reference Librarian, who is back on duty after the regaining of his health. Mr. Wells is in the library every afternoon for the student's aid.

Among the 225 books received since the beginning of the summer quarter, the greatest number are in the fields of education, social science, literature, history, useful arts, and science.

Early indications and talk with some of the students show that the extra half-hour of study time in the evening will be fully appreciated by the majority of students, most of whom are engaged in extra-curricular activities that engage some of their free evening hours.

The Community Teachers Association Holds Meeting

The Community Teachers Association of Northwest Missouri held their first meeting of the year Wednesday night, September 17. All new faculty members were especially invited to attend. ## Freshmen Urged to Become Familiar With Handbook

All freshmen are urged to pay attention to traditions of the college. These traditions are seemingly trifling to new members of the student body, but after a not-too-long association with the school they become cherished, and are remembered throughout life.

The Student Handbook has these traditions in them. Get acquainted with them and the other valuable information in the book.

The Stroller

It didn't take long for everyone from the palpitating froth to old time connoisseurs to insist that this year's grist of gorgeous femmes is the most terrific ever.

The fact that there are more males this year seems most evident by the covey of escorts surrounding vivacious Pat Smith. At any rate, the seemingly rouge top holds the position of First Lady of the Week.

Roger (Jenny) Wren, Mayor of College Heights, and Coach Ryland Milner can be observed these past few days each carefully checking the appearance of the other whenever they meet. This odd state of affairs was occasioned when an unhappy freshman addressed Mayor Wren as "Coach Milner." Both Mr. Milner and the Mayor profess anger at the implied impression.

Team followers were charged with a kick the other evening at football practice when a reported bully limped back to the fold after an unfortunate play. It seems he had concocted a game of "gouge-eye." The game consists of trying to gouge the opponent's eyes with the index and middle finger. However, in this case a lesser-fry sub ducked the thrust and the muscle man dislocated two fingers by poking the top of the kid's helmet—you bet, discretion is still the greater part of valor.

Oh yes, now the inevitable. The "Mother-Hubbard" department.

Last week, men in general were rebuked when one of the Latin Quarter dragons gave out with, "Men just have no vision for on-coming fashions. If they accept the many other changes why not the long skirt idea? We're tired of some style-ignorant male's (her adjective, remember) tapping us on the shoulder and saying 'Pardon me lady, but your ankle is showing'."

The students are speaking of the fine job and excellent co-operation put forth by our new librarian, Mr. Paxton Price. Thanks to his many changes our library is now the "smooth place."

The first week of school the ravenous ones depleted all existing cuisine stocks at the Quad. Either using the noggin whets the appetite or those sports haven't eaten all summer.

It's Something We Should Settle Now

"Swede" had just walked in—and tossed his clean sheet into one of the chairs at a table next to the railing. It was Tuesday morning and the line for breakfast was long. Leslie Parker was leaning on the rail between me and "Swede." He didn't have his clean sheet with him; I guess he hadn't traded in his old one yet. But he was in a good humor as always and willing to talk. Sleep just doesn't affect guys like that. Most fellows aren't much in the mood to talk before breakfast. But not him. He greeted "Swede" and he got a grunt for a reply. "Swede" just looked owlish behind those glasses. He wears and didn't say much. You could see that he wasn't intending to talk much until he had had breakfast—it was cereal, bacon and sweet roll that morning. I heard "Swede" mutter something disrespectful about that dry cereal, but he still wasn't taking Les up on his conversation.

Then Les took a serious tack with "Swede" by:

"You know, I've been wondering if all this is worthwhile."

"Swede" gave him a wondering look and because he didn't want to appear too uncivil he asked: "What d'ya mean 'all this'?"

"This education.—Are we learning essential things that we need to know nowadays in order to live peacefully?"

This deep philosophical nudge brought "Swede" up to wide-awake and a little more interest in what Les was trying to say.

"Who's been putting ideas into that empty sack that you use for a head, boy?"

"No one! I've just been thinking." Les was a little bit indignant.

"Then you ought to be home in bed. That will get you into trouble. I'll call the doctor."

We had just rounded the second corner on the rail and even the prospect of breakfast didn't slow these two lads down.

"Knock it off! What I meant was: are we going to learn to live decently and fairly with each other or are we going to live by the old prehistoric code of dog eat dog. I think that is something we ought to settle now with this new beginning after the war. Maybe we ought to be taught how, first." Les was talking fast now like he always does when he gets excited.

"I'm getting along all right with my neighbors; aren't you?" "Swede" was taunting him now. Les didn't pay any attention.

"I just wonder if we learned anything from our experiences in this war." Les had just shuffled past Joyce, had gotten our food and gone over to the table in front of the piano where "Swede" always sits at breakfast. "Puller-brush top" Hall and several other fellows were sitting there.

Les began again:

"This is an example of what I mean about how things were before and during the war. Then compare the present situation with it. There was an undistinguished but hard-working and principled accountant living with his family in Paris when the war broke out. He was honest and believed in his country and its ability to live at peace, politically and economically, with its neighbors. He respected and abided by his religion. But the Germans invaded and he had to flee with his family to the south of France where the Vichy government was located. Frenchmen were trapped—fighting for their very lives. The machinery of government during that crisis should have worked faster in order for itself to overthrow the invaders. But practical and existing circumstances forced Bigou to start cheating on his government—on his very self, who composed it. He became ashamed of himself. He lost his pride in being seen in church. He groped politically; which party would actually bring about the things that it promised. He wondered what thing on earth was stable. He wondered whom to trust."

Hall boomed in at that point: "Yeah, I was over there and felt that all Frenchmen were thinking the same thing."

"Swede" made his position clear to Les after he finished drinking his milk out of the bottle: "Look—I've got to get my degree and then I'm going to coach football in some high school."

"All very well, but beyond that, are you going to be a social nothing, an economic cipher, a political zero in today's world? Are you going to count for anything to anyone but yourself?" This was Les' final point.

"Just how did you come to find out about this Frenchman Bigou, anyway?"

"By reading YELLOW TAPERS FOR PARIS by Bruce Marshall. It's over at the library."

Dr. Dow Is A. A. U. W. Speaker

The A. A. U. W. met Thursday night in the Social Hall, Room 207, the club's president, Miss Stella Meyers, presiding. Dr. Dow gave a report on the meeting of the International Association of University Women which she attended in Toronto, Canada. Mrs. Charles Bell gave a musical program, after which tea and French pastries were served.

Most of the girls enjoyed their stay in Boston because the people were so friendly and helpful.

From Boston they went to Buffalo where they saw Niagara Falls from both the U. S. and Canadian sides.

Then they went on to Chicago, seeing the Medical Science Museum, an artificial coal mine, Grant Park, where they visited the Museum of Natural History, the Aquarium, and Planetarium, the Catholic cathedral and Lake Michigan.

Tour Ended September 9
From Chicago they went to Kansas City and back to Maryville, for registration on September 9.

The trip was sponsored by the Altrusa Club, a club of outstanding women in the United States, and the reservations, letters of identification, etc., were taken care of by Dr. Dow.

The girls seemed to be more impressed with the Statue of Liberty and Niagara Falls because they symbolized the liberty and natural scenic beauty of the country. They also noticed the sense of hurry of the people of New York City and how young the traffic officers were.

All the foreign students wish to take this opportunity to thank the Altrusa Club for a truly wonderful and educative trip which helped them to know the history and the people of the United States a little better.

Varsity Villagers Give Get Acquainted Party

Registration day, Tuesday, September 9, saw many foot-weary students heaving sighs and groans until evening approached and the promise of a good time put the smile back on every face. The Varsity Villagers sponsored the first night get together, an annual all-school affair, held in Room 114 of the Administration Building at 8:00 P. M.

Charlene Hartness, president of this organization for all girls living outside of Residence Hall, served as general chairman and master of ceremonies at the party. Immediately upon arrival, guests were given a name tag to be worn as identification and as part of a game which was played later in the evening.

The program consisted of several "get-together" games and was ended by group singing, which was led by Robert Tebow, a freshman with a music major.

Following this, an estimated four hundred students finished the evening by dancing to the music of Brad Moore and his College Dance Band. Chaperones included Mrs. H. E. Sheetz, Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor, and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Garrett. Norma Snyder, Roberta Mitchell, and Charlene Hartness composed the planning committee and served food in the Bearcat Den during intermission.

Sigmas Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Misses Garrett and Judson Travel East for Their National Convention.

At Colonial Williamsburg, Virginia, the 50th anniversary of Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority was celebrated at the 21st national convention, July 13-18. Approximately 250 chapter delegates, alumnae, faculty advisers and national officers attended. The delegates included chapter presidents from each of the forty-three chapters in the United States.

During the week, tours were taken through Williamsburg, and to Jamestown, Yorktown, and Virginia Beach. These tours were arranged in the afternoons in special buses with guides to point out the historical landmarks along the way. Especially impressive events during the convention, beside the tours, were the Memorial service for the deceased members of the sorority held in Bruton Parish Church and the Golden Gate Banquet which was the final banquet of the convention. Bruton Parish Church is the oldest regularly attended Episcopal church in the United States and was a fitting atmosphere for the service. The Golden Gates banquet was in honor of the new and retiring officers, with "gold" being the central theme through decorations and program.

National Officers Elected
Convention business included revision of the National Constitution, election of national officers, and panel discussions on different phases of sorority life both in the national field and on college campuses. The national officers elected were Mrs. Robertson Page, president; Mrs. A. Estey, Collegiate Secretary; Mrs. Troy Cartwright, Treasurer; Mrs. W. M. Dunham, Executive Secretary; and Mrs. L. Scheer, Alumnae Secretary. Miss Mabel Lee Walton, sorority president since 1913, is now Director of Interfraternity Relations.

The last national convention was held in 1939 in Colorado Springs, Colorado, and because of wartime conditions this year's convention had been postponed. The next convention will be held in 1950. The planning committee will include a national officer, Hazel McRee, who was convention chairman for 1947; an alumnae, from a Boston alumnae chapter; and a college delegate, Mary Garrett, of the Alpha Epsilon chapter.

Those who attended the convention from Alpha Epsilon chapter, Maryville, were Clara Judson, a graduate of 1947 who was accepted into the alumnae circle at a special ceremony during the convention and Mary Garrett, who attended as the chapter delegate.

Miss Marjory Elliott Honored at Picnic
A mid-vacation reunion was the occasion of a farewell picnic supper, July 26, given by the members of the Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority for their sponsor, Miss Marjory Elliott, who left for a teaching position in the University of Hawaii. The picnic was held in the picnic nook of President and Mrs. J. W. Jones, with about forty girls attending.

Following supper, plans were discussed for the activities of the coming school year and a convention report was given to the group by Mary Garrett who had attended the National Convention in Williamsburg, Virginia.

Committee chairmen were Jean Bush, invitations; and Phyllis Combs, food. Invited guests were Miss Marjory Elliott, Miss June Cozine, and Miss Nell Hudson.

After-the-Game Dance Held Friday Night
The college "after-the-game" dance of the first year was held Friday night, September 19, in Room 114 following the season's first football tilt. Music for the event was furnished by Brad Moore's orchestra.

Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Gee, Miss Wincle Ann Carruth, and Mr. Paxton P. Price. Mrs. H. E. Sheetz is the adviser of the student senate social committee which sponsored the dance.

Two of the Phi Sigs resumed their studies this fall after a period of service in the United States Army. They are James Ray Allen, of Craig, and David Arthur, of Kearney.

Peppers To Have Chili Supper for Alumnae

The Green and White Peppers held their first meeting of the year Tuesday, September 16. Sue Philp, president, presided. It was voted to have a chili supper in honor of the alumnae on Friday, October 31, which will be a part of the Homecoming events. Helen Davis was appointed to secure a suitable place for it.

Dolores Keown, Pat Straight, and Barbara Munson were appointed to mark off the Pepper section for the game Friday night. It was decided that the Peppers would attend the William Jewell game in a body at William Jewell, October 3.

The Peppers will present a stunt, in cooperation with the Barkatz and the College band, during the half of the Homecoming game.

The next meeting will be held Monday, September 22, at which time new Peppers will be chosen.

Dr. Dow Attends Toronto Convention

Is Delegate to First World Conference To Be Held in Western World.

The Ninth Conference of the International Federation of University Women was held in Toronto, Canada, at the invitation of the Canadian Association and the University of Toronto.

Although the conference is held tri-annually, this was the first meeting since 1939, when the conference was held in Stockholm, Sweden. This was also the first conference ever held in the Western Hemisphere.

The group of people attending the conference were extremely cosmopolitan.

The regularly appointed delegates from national member associations were as follows: Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Denmark, Egypt, Finland, France, Great Britain, India, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, Mexico, Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Poland, South Africa, Sweden, Switzerland, and the United States. Also represented were Austria, China, Czechoslovakia, Greece, the Philippines, and Syria.

During the reign of the dictators of Europe, the associations in Germany, Austria, Czechoslovakia and Italy were disbanded by government decree. The German Association has not been reorganized but Austria, Czechoslovakia, and Italy have been reorganized and readmitted to the Organization.

Two Languages Used
All sessions of the convention were in two languages, a translator on full time duty standing by to translate everything in English to French or French to English.

The American Association of University Women, with 95,000 members, is by far the largest unit in the Federation, but freedom of expression of all member associations and their equality in functioning are safeguarded by the constitution stipulation that no association shall have more than five votes.

Sends Five Voting Delegates
The United States sent five voting delegates. Dr. Kathryn McHale, general director of the Association, Dean Althea Hottel, of the University of Pennsylvania, President Dr. Helen White, of the University of Wisconsin, former president, Dr. Hope Hibberd, now chairman of the Committee on Fellowship Awards and Dr. Louise Pearce, chairman of the Committee on International Relations.

In addition, one non-voting delegate was allowed for every two hundred members. Missouri sent two representatives, Dr. Alice Parker of Lindenwood College and Dr. Blanche Dow from the college.

The conference opened with a formal reception at the Royal York Hotel and finished with a dinner at which a representative of every country was seated at the speaker's table.

Dr. White Speaks
Two evening meetings were held at the University Convocation. At one of them, Dr. Helen White, who spoke last May at an open meeting of the Maryville branch, was the speaker. Speaking at the other meeting was Dr. Frances Moran, Regius Professor of Law of the University of Dublin, Ireland, the only woman ever to have been named to King's Counsel, and a participant in the Nuremberg trials, spoke on the subject of the development of international law through the experience of those trials.

The assemblies and the discussions were stimulating and varied. The Finns compared their problems with those of the Dutch. The Poles bore the indelible marks of the long siege they had suffered. Dr. Pilo Navavutti, young Professor of English at the University of Bombay, India, spoke with enthusiasm and assurance of the progress of higher education among Indian women. Belgium, French, Luxembourg, and Italian women told their story of war and reconstruction. The founder of the first normal school for girls in Cairo, Egypt, gave a vivid suggestion of the work which women are doing in Egypt. Mrs. Alice Kandaleft Cosma, who was an assembly speaker at the college in late summer, was the representative of Arab women, and her advice and information was sought on every side. The president of the Mexican Association told the story of the Mexican struggle against illiteracy.

Many of the Europeans were guests of the American Association before or after the Toronto Conference. They visited Washington, New York, and Boston, including as complete and as intimate an acquaintance with our schools as was possible. Everywhere they voiced their amazement at the luxury and convenience of American life, the abundance and the richness of American food, and the seemingly inexhaustibility of American supplies.

Re-organization and re-union were the dominant notes in this international congress.

Two Employed at Estes Park
John L. Ewing and Kenneth McMullen, both graduates of Maryville high school, resumed their studies this fall as freshmen at the college after having spent their three months' summer vacation in Estes Park, Colorado, working as groundsmen for the Estes Park Light and Power Company.

Bearcats to Meet Omaha University In Second Gridiron Engagement

Experience Will Help Maryville

Veteran Bearcat Line Will Work In Front of Fleet Backs Who Carry Power

Totoraitis Will Lead Team

Condition of Squad Believed Fair After Hard Ottawa Game Last Friday Evening

This Friday night the Bearcat football team will take on a big, rangy team from Omaha University, which promises to be one of the Bearcats' toughest assignments of the season.

Omaha University has been idle from the gridiron wars since 1942 and will be anxious to get off to a flying start at the expense of the local club.

Coach of Omaha is Lloyd Cardwell, former All-American at the University of Nebraska and later one of the greatest backs to play pro football. Cardwell played on the fine Detroit Lions professional teams of the late thirties. This is his first year of coaching college football, but with his background he is sure to field a dangerous eleven.

Have Been Bitter Rivals
In former years Omaha and Maryville have been bitter rivals, and the renewal of competition promises to be an interesting affair.

The Bearcats, who started with 100 men the first day of September, have now been melted down into fair shape but need game experience. With many new young men fighting for a berth on the Bearcat squad, all positions are still not secure for any lettermen.

Expected to carry the brunt of attack at all ends are Stanley Totoraitis, 190 lb. all-conference end from Detroit, Michigan; Ken Jones, 180 lb. freshman from Atlantic, Iowa; Jon Wohlford, 190 lb. from Oregon, Missouri; and Larry Zirkel, 180 lb. from Appleton, Wisconsin. Tackles, expected to see heavy duty are Floyd Klang, 190 lb. transfer from Drake who loves contact and is a smart defensive man; Harold Johnson, 205, letterman from Red Oak, Iowa, who is in top shape and looks as if he will serve Cardwell's Omaha team no end of trouble on the right side of the line; and Vernon Weidmaier, 220 lb. letterman from St. Joseph who played almost 60 minutes of every game last year, also ready for his turn in the line play.

Younger Men Get In Form
At guards, Don Hartness, 205, letterman from Maryville, and Dewey Drennen, 165, letterman from Omaha, have been looking good up to now with Bud Baker, 185 lb. letterman from Westboro, Missouri; Jenny Wren, 185 lb. letterman from Kansas City, and several young boys pushing them to hold their positions.

Holding down the center spot will be Bill Gamble, 165, letterman from Plattburg, Missouri, and Maury Geist, 170 lb. letterman and also a transfer from Drake. Quarterbacks are the Bearcats' scarce item, with Paul Gates, 170, from River Grove, Illinois, being the only letterman in this spot. However, Bill Ward and Bill Coulter, two Maryville boys, have been working hard at this position and will be ready to replace Gates when needed. Both boys tip the scales about 155 lbs.

Zuchowski Leads Tailbacks
Tailbacks will be led by Pat Zuchowski, 195, transfer from Central College, at Fayette, who has been driving hard in pre season practice. Charles Scruby, 165, letterman from Oregon State; Don Snyder, 160 lb. speed merchant from Gallatin, Missouri; Jack Slack, 155, from Rock Port; and Alvin Wormsley, 185, from Excelsior Springs, all are competing for the spot.

Wingbacks expected to see action in Friday night's fray are Norman James, 155, from Albany; Rex Adams, 155, letterman from Maryville; Brue Peters, 168, letterman from Creston, Iowa; and Gene Pemberton, speedy 150 lb. back from Cameron. Fullback duties will go to Martin Weed, 195, letterman from Orient, Iowa, and Paul Buthers, 195 lb. letterman from Maryville. Kick Expert Back With Team
Ralph Kurtright, place kick expert during the undefeated years in 1938 and 1939, is back with the team, and is expected to do most of the Cats' extra point making.

Girl Here on Iowa Scholarship
Miss Thelma Weaver of Blockton, Taylor county, Iowa, is attending the College on a scholarship given by the Farm Bureau of Iowa. Miss Weaver is one of nineteen girls in Iowa to be awarded this scholarship which is $140.00 a year for two years.

If it weren't for the alarm clock, to what would a lot of men attribute their start in life?

The cotton plant is believed to have originated in Arabia or India.

Three Lettermen Chosen Bearcat Squad Captains

Stanley Totoraitis, twice all-conference end; Harold Johnson, veteran tackle, and Paul Gates, quarterback, have been elected captains of the 1947-48 Bearcat squad by lettermen who are back on the squad. Coach Ryland Milner announced this honor after the election held two weeks ago. The naming of three men was necessary because of closeness of the vote cast for the men.

Totoraitis is from Detroit, Michigan, but played his high school football in Illinois before coming to Maryville in 1940. After service in the Navy, he returned to school last fall for work toward his degree. Totoraitis is a senior, 6 feet tall, and weighs 195 pounds.

Johnson has his home in Red Oak, Iowa, where he played before coming to join the Bearcats in 1941. During the war he played with Oregon State while in the service on duty at the school. Johnson is 5 feet 10 inches, weighs 205, and is a heady, alert, and hustling player. Johnson is also a senior.

Gates is from River Grove, Illinois, and he played football in the Chicago area before arriving in Maryville in 1940. After service time, during which he played one year of football in Canada, he returned to school last fall. Gates is 6 feet tall, weighs 170, and is in his last year of school.

Traffic deaths in the United States per 100 million travel miles in 1946 were at an all-time low of 9.7.

Old A. C. E. Members Hold First Meeting

The old members of the Association of Childhood Education held a meeting September 15 for the purpose of clarifying business matters and organizing for the coming year.

Rachel Robinson is to represent our chapter at a meeting of the planning board for the national convention to be held in St. Louis next spring.

Committees were appointed to plan the treasure hunt for new members next Monday night. Jeanne Bahl, as social chairman, appointed Frances Pfander and Betty McGowan to help organize the evening's activities.

Sixteen old members were present for the initial meeting.

W. A. A. Has Welcome Party

The W. A. A. held a welcome party for the freshmen girls, Thursday night, September 18, in Room 114. The entertainment was led by Dorothy Thue Masters and Mary Lou Bibby. The get acquainted game was "name bingo." After introductions and a short welcome by Lois Gordon, president, there was a game of "card bingo." Refreshments were served by Meredee Myers and Lois Gordon.

Among the candidates for the Cubs' team are four returning lettermen, John E. Schaefer, 2-year letterman at halfback; Keith Lee at center; Joe Walker, left end; and Jim Doran, right end. These men bolstered by Burdell Hutson, Elmer Lane, Donald R. Holaday, Conlin E. Courtney, Don Weatherman, Ronald Pfost, and Rex Goodwin will form the nucleus for this year's team.

Bearcats Beat Ottawa 14 to 0 In Opening Game

The Summary

	Maryville	Ottawa
First downs	9	6
Yards gained rushing	212	104
Yards lost rushing	17	24
Forward passes attempted	7	15
Passes incomplete	3	12
Yards gained passing	1	1
Av. yards of punts	34	30
Yards punts returned	49	57
Fumbles, yards	70	35
Fumbles recovered	6	4
Own fumbles recovered	4	0

After playing a sluggish first period, the Maryville STC Bearcats opened their offensive power toward the end of the first half to beat the Ottawa, Kas., University Bears 14 to 0 here Friday night.

The Bearcats used deception to score their first touchdown and mixed a pass with their drive in the third period to chalk up the second count.

Maryville had driven to the Ottawa 3-yard line, only to be held in check on four downs and gave up the ball. Ottawa punted out to its 28 where the 'Cats lost 5 on a penalty. Alvin Wormsley passed to Bill Ward for 10; Norman James picked up 2; Fullback Marvin Weed hit twice for six and five yards and then Wormsley, substitute halfback, skirted around right end for the touchdown after some beautiful ball handling back of the line.

Drive Bogs Down
Ralph Kurtright, 33-year-old Albany place kick expert, added another point with his trusty toe. This was done after the 'Cats were set back 5 yards for taking too much time.

Just before this drive Maryville had put on an offense from the Maryville 37 line that bogged down in sight of goal. Paul Gates passed 10 yards to Stanley Totoraitis; Paul Buthers went around end for a first down and Gates cut back to his right for a 28 yard gain to the Braves' 10 line. Gates passed to Totoraitis 10 yards and there the Bearcats lost the ball.

Scores on Lateral
Weed started Maryville off on its second touchdown drive. He recovered an Ottawa fumble on the Ottawa 34-line. On two shovel passes the 'Cats lost 6 yards. Then Zuchowski passed to James on the Ottawa 18 yard line. Weed picked up 3 yards. Zuchowski took a lateral to go around right end for the touchdown and Kurtright kicked the goal.

That ended the scoring.
Both teams showed that they were playing under adversely warm weather conditions and that it was the season's first game. Fumbles were frequent, punts were blocked and ball receivers failed to get protection on receiving punts.

Substitutions Frequent
Both coaches sent a continual string of substitutes going in and out of the game under the free substitution rule.

Ottawa kept Maryville in hot water in the first quarter but lost chances to advance on penalties or intercepted passes. Once the Braves got to Maryville 24 after recovering a Bearcat fumble and then Hughes took a pass on the 'Cat 18, only to be called back because of a penalty.

Veterans Receive Initial Subsistence Payment News

The Kansas City Office of the Veterans Administration is calling the attention of all veteran-students to the following pertinent information:

1. Approximately 15,000 veterans in western Missouri and northeastern Kansas will enter educational institutions for the first time this fall or else will be re-entering training.

2. Generally, veterans in this category who enter school any time during September will receive initial subsistence payments between November 1 and 10.

3. Any veteran entering training in October would not expect his first subsistence payment until between December 1 and 10.

4. Normally, initial payments to veterans will not be processed on the basis of a part of a month. This means, that for the most part, first payments to veterans will reflect that period from the time they enroll in school and through October. Therefore, veterans should not expect payments until thirty days after entering school.

5. Veterans are requested to call or write the Veterans Administration only unless payments are not received as outlined above.

Every effort will be made by the Veterans Administration to get subsistence payments to all veterans as quickly as possible. It was pointed out that a veteran's award cannot be processed until all records are in order and have been received by the VA Regional Office. Because of this, initial payments necessarily require a longer time to process. Subsequent checks should be received by veterans between the first and tenth of each month thereafter.

M Club Starts Planning Its Coming Activities

Special meetings of the M Club marked the opening of M Club activities for the school year. Bruce Peters, president of the club, was in charge of the meetings.

Among the items discussed during the meetings were the Walkout Day proceedings, in which the M Club has a prominent part. Also discussed were programs for home football games, initiation of new members, and improvements to the M Club room at the gymnasium.

Major and Mrs. Carter Return
Major Sidney Melvin Carter and Mrs. Carter, now stationed at the Roswell Army Airfield, Roswell, New Mexico, were greeting student and faculty friends on the campus the first week in September. Major Carter met his bride, a captain in the Woman's Army Auxiliary Corps when they were both stationed in Germany. They met at Heidelberg University where they were studying German. Before they came to Maryville they visited at Polo, Missouri.

Random Shots . . .

John Daly, a candidate for the fullback slot on Coach Ryland Milner's Bearcat eleven, was injured Tuesday afternoon in a workout. John was just rounding into shape and looked very good in practice Monday night. The loss of Daly will be felt by the squad.

Injuries, except the injury to Daly, have prevailed during the first part of the practice season. Zuchowski, Johnson, Peters, Felt, Boeh, and Gates have been on the injured list at one time thus far. Blisters from new football shoes appeared on the potential players during the first week of football camp. Before and after every practice Coaches Milner and Peterson were busy fixing heels for the men.

Big John Wohlford, a product of Oregon, Missouri, is out, hustling to make this year's fighting eleven. Big John is receiving real competition from Ken Jones, Atlantic, Iowa, who is a freshman, playing his first year at end.

Floyd Klang, who was enrolled at

Drake University last year, is big and rough. If you don't think so just ask some of the backs who have been trying to run his tackle slot. Klang is from Essex, Iowa.

The Maryville Spoofhounds practiced on the college field Tuesday night while Coach Milner was having a chalk talk with his squad in the "gym."

Pat Zuchowski looked like crazy legs Hirsch Monday night when he was stepping over linemen and then, hitting the backfield with a lot of power.

Students will see this year's Bearcats in action twice before they take to the road, traveling to William Jewell, October 3.

Alvin Wormsley, converted from fullback to tailback, is the best looking passer on the squad. Alvin has been consistently hitting his receivers, and is a running threat as well.

Freshmen guards looking well in practice are Felt, Morell, and Hochenauer.

Bearcats Will Meet Jewell in Road Tilt

October 3, the Bearcats travel to William Jewell for their first game on the road this season. The Bearcats roared to a win over Jewell last fall, 20-0.

There are high hopes of a larger score for the Bearcats when they travel to Jewell. Coach Milner says he has a good team that is shaping up, and can see no reason for a loss on October 3.

This season the Bearcats have some positions left vacant by graduated regulars, but Coach Milner has confidence in the performance of replacements, who showed great promise as substitutes last fall and during the spring practice sessions.

The probable starting lineup for Maryville will have Totoraitis and Jones at ends, Johnson and Klang at tackles, Hartness and Drennen at guards, Gamble at center, Gates at quarter, Zuchowski and James at the halfback posts, and Weed at full.

All-School Picnic

Freshmen of the Horace Mann high school were initiated at an all-school picnic Friday afternoon at the College Park. The picnic was planned by the Horace Mann high school student council. Coach John Pederson directed group contests which were won by the senior class.

The picnic ended with a watermelon feed.
